Customer Reviews

I bought these Monet Bookmarks and Van Gogh Bookmarks from the same publisher. The resolution of the images of the Monet Bookmarks is significantly lower than that used to print the Van Gogh Bookmarks. I have uploaded close-up comparison photos. Still I give 2 stars for the thick paper quality and cheap price; I will use these without much fear of losing or ruining them (as I would fear when using the really nicely printed Gogh bookmarks!) BUT I would recommend to anyone getting the Gogh bookmarks instead of these, even if you are a Monet fan - the poor image quality will only disappoint you.

These are charming bookmarks from the Dover Publications collection. They are printed on heavy coated card stock two per page, and are separated with a perforated edge. They measure 2"x 5-3/4". Dover says they are "green" because it's printed on 10% recycled material. The Monet paintings are actually full-color details from his work and quite impressive. The details are from Water Lily Pond; Camille Monet in Japanese Costume; Water Lilies; The Stroll, Camille Monet and Her Son Jean; Rouen Cathedral, Portal and the Tour d'Albane; Water Lilies; The Boulevard des Capucines; Hemerocallis by the Water; Dahlias; Suzanne Reading and Blanche Painting by the Marsh at Giverny; Poplars on the Banks of the Seine; Impression, Sunrise. If you like Impressionist painting, these will be a delight to you. They will also make a nice little add-on gift if you give someone a book or two.

I really needed bookmarks..I kept folding the top of the page to hold my spot and I have about 5 books I'm reading at once, so this was an inexpensive much needed buy for me. Also like Monet. These are pretty. Smaller than I thought but I didn't read the description or other reviews so that was my fault, but they are a good size..who needs a really long bookmark. Just tear them out of the book and there you go. I'm not picky so these work great for me. This would make a nice little stocking stuffer for a reader.

I knew they would be small. That was fine. I didn't expect anything grand. I am still sorely disappointed. The resolution of the images is so low it ruins several. You can clearly see the pixels in every image. I'll go back to using scraps of paper rather than use these because they just look so sad.

Thick paper with glossy coating. Comes in a small book & you just tear them out. Perfect for reading. Item as described. Just bought the "Tiffany" collection ones since I liked these so much.

Beautiful artwork. If you are a fan of Monet, you will enjoy the prints. However, the bookmarks are perforated and have to be removed that way. Because it's with card stock, the perforated edges are very obvious. Since I was giving these away, I chose to cut the edges so that they wouldn't look tacky. Once that was done, they looked great. I could also see the ambitious person hole-punching and adding cords for an even more elegant touch. Overall, good value for the money.

These are very small. I like longer and more substantial bookmarks. But beyond that, the colors in the reprints are very faded and muted.

These Dover bookmarks are extremely handy - much nicer than using scraps of paper. They're printed on heavy card stock and the colours are true; names of the paintings are listed on the back of each one. Since the stock is glossy, they do somewhat repel spills or stains. Extremely good value at under $.13 a piece; I can permanently leave one or more in a book without worrying about the cost. They're printed four to a sheet and easily separated by perforations which do leave a bit of an uneven edge; if one is obsessive, they could easily be trimmed. Dover offers such a wide variety of subjects for this range of bookmarks that there's something for everyone. Excellent for party favours, stocking stuffers, etc. and a good way to just treat yourself.
