Customer Reviews

Rhoda is by Amish standards, a spinster. At 29 years of age and with no prospects. Her life circles around her bees and her mother, who is slowly losing herself. Her brother wants to sell the farm and move Rhoda and ma'am into his daadi house. Ma'am wants to die in the house her husband built for her and Rhoda doesn't want to live under her brother's rule. She would like to lease the farm land out to bring in money for her and ma'am to live on and her brother wouldn't have to do so much for them. An Apple farm up the road has sold to a single man about 30, and he learned that Rhoda has bees and he wants to rent the hives to pollinate the trees when the time comes. He has talked to Rhoda about it and she has been studying library books about it. She is thinking yes. A good start to a good story. Now to read the next book.

I absolutely love Amish romance books. The story was well-written and flowed smoothly. The characters were well-developed. I am looking forward to the next book in the series.
