A History Of The Muslim World Since 1260: The Making Of A Global Community

Synopsis

The history of the predominantly Muslim world is examined within the context of world history. It examines political, economic, and broad cultural developments, as well as specifically religious ones. The themes of the book are tradition and adaptation: it examines the tensions between the desire of Muslims to maintain continuity with their legacy and their recognition of the need to adapt to changing conditions.

Had to get this as a textbook. Hard to follow because there are very little visual aides

The book makes a nice reading.
