Synopsis

**** Extended Version *****1444 A.D. - She's a mercenary, a tough lady warrior known as the Lady of the Moon. Samarra le Brecque is hired by the father of a reluctant groom to take his son to the Caves of St. Agnes in Cornwall, where the groom's intended will be waiting. According to local legend, if a man and a woman touch the red stains upon the walls of the cave, said to be left by doomed lovers, then the man and woman shall fall in love forever. But the situation doesn't go as planned. Sir Rhodes de Leybourne is a powerful knight for the Earl of Bristol, Bastian de Russe (BEAST). He wants to choose his own wife, not the woman his father has selected for him, and in his haste to escape he falls right into the trap set by the lady mercenary. Now, a game of wits begins as Rhodes finds himself attracted to this strong, beautiful woman who commands a misfit army of mercenaries. Will Rhodes honor his father's wishes or will he follow his own heart? (Note: this novella was originally published in the Mists and Moonrise collection, released 6/2017, but this novella is the extended version with additional content)

Customer Reviews

Are you searching for a book that is both unique, and captivating? Look no more! Kathryn Le Veque's LADY OF THE MOON is a spectacular read that features a Heroine who just so happens to be a skilled Warrior! It isn't everyday that the leading lady in a novel is both strong, and competent wielding a sword, but Samarra le Brecque certainly is. Not only is Samarra lovely, she is tough, and intelligent. When Samarra and our Hero, Sir Rhodes de Leybourne, cross paths...well, the sparks really begin to fly, and this clash of wills is something to behold! Sir Rhodes is a law unto himself. He wants to blaze his own trail, and make his own decisions. Especially when it comes to choosing a wife. He is bound and determined not to marry the woman of his Father's choosing. Sir Rhodes will find his own wife, thank you very much! His Father, however, has other ideas.... The evolution of Samarra and Sir Rhodes de Leybourne's romance is beautiful, and captivating. Fans of the medieval genre are sure to love this fast-paced, emotional read. Kathryn Le Veque has created a memorable, breathtaking adventure with LADY OF THE MOON! Don't miss it!

I enjoy books that have a very strong female as one of the lead characters. LADY OF THE MOON gives us that with Samarra. Our hero-total wuss at the beginning of their story. He is very spoiled and extremely selfish. There were many turning points in this book. Samarra and Rhodes' first meeting in the tavern, when he saves her life and then when they meet his father. Watching Rhodes become the man he should have been all along was very entertaining. I personally enjoyed how, with all the machinations of Rhodes' father, they were all outsmarted by a "slip of a female".

St. Agnes cave was the place where the story begins! A Love so strong that their blood was mixed together on their death. Now people believe that if you and your loved one touches the blood stain together then your love will always be. "Missy" the mercenary is paid to take Rhodes to the cave where he is supposed to meet his betrothed so they could touch the stain. Things do not go as planned but ends great. Again Kathryn Le Veque is GREAT!!!!

Lady of the Moon is a great beginning to something new for Kathryn Le Veque, a story about pirates, a woman mercenary and an English Knight. This is a great read and I am looking forward to the next in this series.

Kathryn Le Veque just keeps turning out one outstanding story after another. This one stands up there with all her other works. I would recommend this book to anyone interested.

I was not impressed with reading this book.

Lady of the Moon by Kathryn Le Veque was a very unique story of Samarra Brecque who is the sister of a feared pirate who dominates the seas. She in turn is a very beautiful, but dangerous mercenary. A Lord has requested her services to abduct his wayward son who refuses to adhere by a betrothal agreement that has been in place for sometime. The assignment is to just kidnap him and take him to the assigned cave, where a legend of two lovers was to have taken place in the past. Simple assignment...not so much. Rhodes de Leybourne, has returned home to see his ill father. Rhodes' liege is de Russe and he really wants to return quickly. Unfortunately, his father is going to continue to pester him about marrying for a beneficial alliance through an old betrothal agreement. Unfortunately, for his father, Rhodes is not having any of it. Rhodes is a tremendous knight with exceptional skills and has other adventures to pursue, not an aged old betrothal agreement. These two characters will have an intense battle of wills. A battle that will test who is stronger in all aspects...even a test of their own hearts. It was a wonderful story. It has me now intrigued about her brother, the Pirate.

If you want to be introduced to the novels of this talented author Kathryn Le Veque, well this novella is the perfect story to choose. It only took me three hours to devour. Lady of the Moon tells the fascinating story of a noble knight and a mercenary woman. This woman named Samarra will accept an offer from his father. However, Rhodes, no longer wishes to marry the woman his father imposed on him. Together, Samarra and Rhodes will embark on a journey of twists & turns, adventure, and romance. I loved the happy ending!
